

CONTENTS

PART I – Fundraising and Leadership

1. Behind the Revolving Door.....	3
Supply and demand in fundraising.....	4
Why people enter and leave the fundraising profession.....	5
Improving fundraising success through staff retention.....	6
The role of Board members and CEOs in fundraising success.....	7
2. One Thing Just Leads to Another.....	11
Fundraising profit.....	12
The cost/benefit of professional fundraisers.....	14
Research objectives.....	15
Research methodology, profile of the study group.....	16
3. Career Mobility Among Professional Fundraisers.....	21
Differentiating between expense and investment in fundraising.....	22
Financial impact of frequent staff turnover.....	25
What it costs to replace a professional fundraiser.....	27
Typical length of stay in fundraising positions.....	36
Unique attributes of long-tenured staff	39
Job tenure among Chief Executive Officers.....	41
Why people become fundraisers.....	43
Characteristics of fundraisers planning to stay or go.....	46
Definition of acceptable tenure	53
4. How the Fundraising Landscape Is Changing.....	57
Fundraising then and now: the evolution of an industry.....	58
How to make the most profit.....	61
Myths and misunderstandings that limit fundraising success.....	62
Donor-Centered Fundraising.....	78

PART II – Building Your Best Fundraising Team

5. Planning to Hire.....	87
Hiring for the long-term.....	87
Typical versus Donor-centered fundraising planning.....	88
Profit through collaboration.....	91
6. How to Attract Top Fundraising Talent.....	95
Do you really need to hire?.....	96

DONOR-CENTERED LEADERSHIP by Penelope Burk

Internal promotion as a staff retention advantage.....	97
The best time to hire is when you're not hiring.....	102
Strategic selection (hiring from the competition).....	105
Using professional search firms.....	105
Staff as informal search consultants.....	106
Advertising for candidates.....	107
Using your website as a powerful hiring tool.....	111
Fundraisers who transition from other industries.....	114
How to broaden your prospect pool.....	116
How to get into fundraising from other career paths.....	117
A creative approach to advertising for fundraisers.....	120
The A-B-C method of short-listing candidates.....	127
7. Salary and Benefits in the Real World.....	131
Salary: the number one asset in hiring well.....	133
Financial incentives.....	136
The hiring advantage of creative employment benefits.....	137
Professional development as an employment benefit.....	140
Atypical benefits.....	143
8. How to Select the Best Candidate.....	149
Getting ready to interview candidates.....	150
First impressions in interviews.....	153
How to phrase interview questions.....	153
Weeding out chronic under-performers.....	155
Sample interview questions.....	156
Interviewing management-level candidates.....	160
Interviewing in the context of Donor-centered fundraising.....	162
Discussing references with candidates.....	165
Involving other staff in candidate selection.....	166
Interviewing over-qualified candidates.....	166
Hiring from outside the fundraising industry.....	168
Hiring the Chief Development Officer.....	169
Hiring One-Person-Shop fundraisers.....	173
Checking references.....	175
Dealing with questions that candidates ask in interviews.....	182
How a not-for-profit's brand clouds judgement during hiring.....	186
Advice for candidates on securing the job they want.....	187
9. Hiring the People Who Lead.....	195
Role confusion among chief executive officers, leadership volunteers and professional fundraisers.....	196

DONOR-CENTERED LEADERSHIP by Penelope Burk

The attributes of great fundraising Chief Executives.....	200
Interview questions on fundraising for CEO candidates.....	207
Checking CEO candidates' references as it relates to fundraising.....	215
Finding Board members who will raise money	219
Basic requirements of serving on the board	220
How to find great fundraising volunteers	227
Aligning fundraising expectations of Board members with their talents.....	221
Using the nominating committee effectively	228
Marketing board recruitment.....	229
Vetting and interviewing candidates for Board positions	234
Checking volunteer candidates' references.....	238

PART III – Holding Onto the Team You Build

10. Bright, Shiny and New: How to Maximize the Value of New Staff and Volunteers	243
Employment agreements.....	244
Agreements for leadership volunteers	246
Probation: length of term.....	250
Fair and useful objectives for probationary employees	251
Apprenticeship as a retention strategy for young and mid-career transitioning fundraisers	253
Orientation for Board members.....	260
11. How to Hold onto Good Staff	267
Managing a donor-centered development department	267
Implications of change on direct marketing staff.....	271
The impact of staff retention in major gifts fundraising	276
Managing yourself in a one-person-shop	280
Managing young fundraisers	283
Tenure-extending performance evaluations	289
12. Time and Productivity	297
Why fundraisers can't get their work done in a regular work week.....	298
Improving productivity by controlling meetings	300
The tendency towards over-reporting.....	302
Managing management time.....	304
Dealing with email.....	306
Applying board members' time most effectively in fundraising.....	308
Why overtime is time wasted	310
Flexible work schedules and unlimited time off.....	311
Hire the staff you can trust.....	314

DONOR-CENTERED LEADERSHIP by Penelope Burk

13. I'm Leaving	317
Succession planning	317
What to do when your fundraiser says she's leaving.....	321
Exit interviews	325
14. Donor-Centered Leadership	329
Today's leadership opportunity in fundraising	329
Managing people	333
Leadership innovation.....	335
Leadership and the Peter Principle	336
Management weaknesses	338
The art of leadership	341
Micromanaging.....	343
Abusive management	345
Leadership at the board table	347
Day and night management.....	349
15. You	351